

SIOR Inland Empire & Orange County Chapter Starts the Year on the Right Note

In January, the SIOR Inland Empire & Orange County Chapter held its kick-off meeting at The Pacific Club in Newport Beach, Calif. More than 60 of the region's most experienced commercial real estate professionals attended the sold-out event. Attendees networked prior to dinner followed by the main program where Dr. John Husing of Economics and Politics, Inc., gave a comprehensive presentation and analysis about national and regional economic issues and their importance to the commercial real estate industry.

SIOR Inland Empire & Orange County Chapter Goes Amazon Prime

Thirty members and sponsors of the Inland Empire & Orange County chapter toured the Amazon Fulfillment Center in February in San Bernardino, Calif. Members attended an orientation and proceeded on a guided and narrated tour of the facility. Measuring at over 1,000,000 sq. ft., the state of the art warehousing and distribution facility is truly the product of talented personnel, modern logistical management, and advanced communication technologies all housed underneath one massive roof. The group spent considerable time admiring the facility throughout the tour and gained appreciation for what happens 'after the click.'

SIOR Inland Empire & Orange County Chapter Plays Ball with Greater Los Angeles Chapter

The SIOR Greater Los Angeles and Inland Empire & Orange County Chapters met for the annual March Madness regional chapter meeting. Held at Shark's Cove in beautiful Manhattan Beach, the event was well attended by members of both chapters. The annual event presents members and sponsors, from two of the nation's largest industrial markets, with the opportunity to network in a unique setting on a private rooftop deck, watching basketball, overlooking the Pacific Ocean.
